By using our website, you agree that we use cookies.

What is a cookie?

A cookie is a small data file that we store on your computer to keep track of what happens during your visit and to recognize the computer. A cookie is not a program and does not contain viruses.

Website use of cookies

Cookies are necessary to make the website work. Cookies also help us get an overview of your visit to the website, so that we can continuously optimize and target the website to your needs and interests. Cookies remember, for example, what you have added to the shopping cart, whether you have previously visited the site, whether you are logged in and what language you would like to have the website in.

Here is the overview of the website's use of cookies and our partners in this connection:

Necessary cookies

Our shop system uses session cookies, which are necessary cookies help make a website usable by enabling basic features such as page navigation and access to secure areas of the website. The website cannot function properly without it. These cookies will be able to be seen as: "SessionID_*" They expire after 30 days.

Functional cookies

- Google Analytics: We use Google Analytics to analyze web traffic and measure the impact of campaigns. We do not collect or store personal data through Google Analytics, but only analyze anonymized data.

To reject or delete your cookies

Cookies Rejection

You can always reject cookies on your computer by changing the settings in your browser. Where to find the settings depend on which browser you are using. However, you should be aware that if you do there are many features and services you cannot use because they assume that the website can be remember the choices you make.

Deleting Cookies

Cookies that you have previously accepted can subsequently be deleted easily. If you are using a PC with a newer browser, you can delete your cookies by using the shortcut keys: CTRL + SHIFT + Delete

If the shortcut keys don't work and/or use a MAC, start by finding out which browser you're using, and then click the appropriate link: Remember: If you're using multiple browsers, delete cookies in all of them.
